

Southeast Unitarian Universalist Summer Institute (SUUSI)

July 17-23, 2005

“Within the space of three days, I was on top of the highest mountain in the area, went whitewater rafting, and was down in a cave.” --Chuck Davis

“SUUSI provides a week of dates for my wife and me. We look forward to the co-op dorm and our evenings out together. The kids are tuckered, monitored, and sleep like logs, as their days are always upbeat too.” -- Mark Rauterkus

“No matter what I do, no experience is ever quite like SUUSI.” --Kevin Hallmark

Some come because of the connections they have built over the years, some to renew the friendships and recreate a community that's unique in their lives. Others will be coming for the first time because they have heard the enthusiasm and seen the sparkle in the eyes of those who have come before.

SUUSI has been a rich and rewarding experience, as well as a low-cost family experience, for over 50 years. Won't you come this year?
